A Certain Blonde

a: SnowySagittarius7

19/06/2017

Last update: 31/03/2018

The Manawa and Clark family move to a new town from LA. Alicia is pissed from leaving her friends and her ex-girlfriend who she had plans of getting back together with, behind. Her mum says that she will enjoy Polis and enjoy going to the high school Arkadia. One problem is that it's smaller than her old one, which means everyone will know her. However after she meets a certain blonde with bright blue eyes, she realised that this town might not be so bad after all.

A Different World

a: ClexaLife

14/01/2019

Completed

Part 1 of Survival, Death, Love

Alicia Clark gets separated from her group. Walkers chase her down a dead end. Alicia thinks that this is the end, until a stunning blonde girl, with a leather jacket and black ripped jeans saves her life. The blonde holds her knife in one hand and a pistol in the other. She smirks, while holding a cigarette between her lips. This girl is truly gorgeous.

A flood of blood to the heart (and the fear slipstreams)

a: Somekindofpoet

06/04/2016

Completed

Part 1 of Don't Dead Open Inside

Elyza Lex, from the beginning of the apocalypse. At her friend's dying request, Elyza sets out to try to find his girlfriend. When she fails, Elyza is content to be on her own. Until she happens to come across the very person she was looking for. Fluffly angsty slow burn for days.

A Latch of Hope

a: ForeverLovingLexa

14/02/2017

Last update: 14/02/2017

Alicia Clark is faced with new challenges, new people and realization of how her life has played out for as far back as she could remember. She and a new stranger are going to have to learn to trust each other and survive together.

A Lover Of The Light

a: HedaQueenslayer

11/08/2016

Last update: 29/04/2017

Part 4 of Rewriting History

Things are a hot mess and everyone needs to get their shit together. Ontari is confusing. Titus is dead. I haven't forgotten about Jason. Things happen. The Fluffy bunnies return. The dead walk. Dual worlds. Elyza and Alicia will show up, probably not how you expect. People we miss might come back, other people will meet.

After you saved me

a: Intreker05

29/04/2016

Completed

Set about seven weeks after the outbreak, Travis, Nick, Ofelia, and Alicia are separated from the rest of the group after a hoard comes through the center of town. They're rescued by a mysterious young woman with a quick wit and a kind heart, but are her motives really honest? Alicia can't tell, but she's definitely intrigued by her in a way that she never expected to be, and the two begin something that might be hard to leave behind.

All the Pretty Girls

a: ReshopHeda_13

10/01/2017

In progress

Y'all know the drill. Alicia is a stubborn little shit who gets separated from her family and finds Elyza who is a cocky little shit and makes Alicia blush all the time. They won't remember their past lives as Lexa or Clarke, but they're going to be super fluffy and cute and badass. This is going to be a really slow burn, I'm planning on making it several chapters long as I continue avoiding all of my responsibilities. I suck at summaries but hopefully you guys don't think I suck at writing this story.

An Eliza A Day Keeps the Walkers at Bay

a: NihongoFutago92

18/04/2016

Last update: 27/05/2016

This is based directly after Season 1 of FTWD. If you haven't seen it, Spoiler Alert: they're on a boat. That's where this Fic picks up from. Alicia sees a boat in the distance-much like in the Season 2 previews. She ends up trying to help the stranded boat-goers and picks up an unexpected blonde guest.

An End to the Beginning of All Wars

a: hyperbolic_jester

29/08/2018

Alicia-Althea

In progress

Alicia and Al have made their way across the country to the gates of Alexandria. They have returned a gravely wounded Morgan home, with the hope that they, too, can carve out a life for themselves. They make new friends and start to heal the wounds from the world's end and before. Just as they are finally settling in, a new menace takes aim at Alexandria and threatens all they hold dear.

This will most likely explore some of Althea's backstory, which, in this story, includes a stint in Darfur and the resulting PTSD that she experiences.

Slight AU: Abraham dies from the arrow, like in the comics, instead of Denise, so she is very much alive when our heroes show up at Alexandria. Also, Al and Alicia choose to take Morgan up on his offer to take him to Alexandria.

The Clark family have been kicked off of Strand’s ship and now they must learn to survive in harsher circumstances. One day they come across two people who offer them the chance to join their community; Alexandria. A sanctuary surrounded by thick forest, away from civilization. Away from the threats of humanity, or so they think.

What happens when Alicia meets two completely different people? Both of which make her feel protected and cared for, in a world where she didn’t think it was possible for a human being to come to care for another again. Were selfishness and greed took over basic human emotion.

There's Jacob Macabee, the son of Alexandria's leader. Well-disciplined, charismatic and ready to protect Alicia at all costs. Also, Elyza Lex; a proficient supply runner who is known amongst the community as rebellious. She acts impulsively most of the times and she even starts to blatantly avoid Alicia at first. This girl intrigues her in a way no one had ever did, and this scares her. She is A lone wolf with a dreadful past.

Two distinctive people with only one thing in common. They are both in awe of Alicia.

Clexa alternate universe reincarnation.

They have moments where the past life and memories shine through, but they never quite line up. They go on for the longest time looking out of another's eyes – but not quite meeting - for the longest fucking time. Each, separately, feeling like they're maybe going a little bit crazy.

Alicia will turn and suddenly the shotgun Elyza is cleaning will turn in to a pad and paper in her mind's eye and she goes to say something but then Elyza looks up and that's not Clarke looking out.

Other times it's Elyza that looks up and sees Alicia as Clarke remembers Lexa, when she stands up straight or her shirt flutters in the breeze, but her expression that would never have been on Lexa's face.

After rain the soil and plants combine in to a smell that makes Alicia grip her baseball bat just that little bit harder and for a moment, it's a sword.

Part 1 of Imaginary

It was all over before anyone knew it had even begun. Humanity was lost to the dead. Elyza Lex, fairly new to Los Angeles, is the blonde badass from Down Under with a painful past, surviving day to day...a lonely existence in the wake of the outbreak. Alicia Clark, just a girl who wanted to finish school, go off on her own and stop being under everyone's thumb. A strong, stubborn, old soul who knew there was more out there for her before the outbreak took all of her dreams. Life has hardened them both and each has an aching emptiness they can't quite understand until one fateful day, soft, green eyes meet stormy blue. Maybe all is not lost in this cruel world after all..

Her leather jacket is scratched and cuffed slightly on the elbows and there is an off white bandage wrapped tightly around her upper thigh but she doesn't seem to be in any pain. She moves with the grace and poise of a ballet dancer but strikes with the cold-blooded accuracy of a warrior. This girl has embraced death, she breathes it, feeds off it, relishes its cold hand. It follows her every move, stalking her but she is not its prey. She is not vulnerable, not afraid, not helpless and alone. She is death. She is the embodiment of death and it suits her.

"I'm the one who just saved your life." She deadpanned. "But if you don't get up we won't be alive for much longer."

"What are you talking about?" I asked, my lungs now able to take in oxygen.

"You've been running from a horde of roamers, they're not going to stop now there's a bit of distance. We need to find somewhere safe. Luckily for you, I know this area like the back of my hand, Princess." A smirk ghosted her lips before she bent down and helped me back onto my feet.

"You don't have to come with me, but I would recommend it. I understand you can't trust me because you don't know me. I'm Elyza by the way, Elyza Lex." She outstretched her hand which was stained red, it's not the most encouraging thing in the world but I grasped her hand and shook it quickly before stepping back. "Nice to meet you. Alternate Universe -- Fear the Walking Dead

What if Alicia had met Althea before the end of everything?

Alicia is a self assured, confident, young university student when a chance meeting in a coffee shop with Al the cute, flirty, somewhat older reporter leaves her excited for a possible romance beyond what she's experienced before. Will Al's love em and leave em bad reputation leave Alicia wondering what she was thinking or will Alicia's caring and kind nature bring Al out of her self-imposed, never more than one date, isolation"

Lexa regrets insisting that Klark lead the Skaikru because that requires Klark to physically travel to Arkadia for two weeks every month. Because the thirteenth clan still needs someone to tell them that fire is hot and even when they are behaving, the Skaikru cause their Heda problems. She knows that Klark hates going there but it is what it is...

Or Lexa gets major separation anxiety everytime Klark leaves Polis and Clarke makes Lexa something that will, hopefully, help ease the commander's anxiety while she's gone.

"Sarcasm is not the product of a strong mind, Commander." She jokes. "So, where are we?"

"What. The. Fuck?" She smacks Elyza on the shoulder. "Elyza what the hell is going on? Where are we and why," she finally looks down at herself and pulls the sheets close to her body and narrows her eyes, "why are we naked?"

At that Elyza turns to face her, blinking rapidly to shake the last bit of drowsiness from her head and bites her lip, "I think the question should be 'why wouldn't we be naked?'"

Or,

The world was ending, she was separated from the only two people she cared about and to top it off, she was about to die. Until an annoying blonde Australian strolled into her life that is, with her leather jackets and aviators, guns and knives strapped to every inch of her, new born guitar, the need to call her every pet name under the sun and shamelessly flirt with her. The world ending might have been the best thing that happened to Alicia Clark.

Part 12 of What If?

Part of the reason Alicia stops killing walkers is to see if she's actually capable of stopping. She didn't realize this would mean being stuck with AI while she films their recruitment video.

Or, Alicia finally becomes friends with AI, and then some. Canon to 5x09 but diverges from canon thereon.

It's not until the fierce blonde fighter named Elyza Lex enters her life that Alicia starts to remember a past one... They both feel an inexplicable pull towards the other, but will they be able to ignore their fragmented memories of another life when they stumble upon the ruins of a long-forgotten city only they remember as a place that was once called Polis? Is it possible to change events of the past? The most powerful weapon may be the only way to survive in this world, and luckily it's one they're rediscovering.
